General Cabell:

a) Referred to the recent riots on Formosa and commented that with the number of American troops and U.S. civilian personnel now residing and employed in foreign countries, the law of averages would certainly bring about other demonstrations against the U.S. resulting from crimes committed by American personnel either real or trumped up. He said in effect every American now stationed in a foreign country is a walking incident and CIA stations would have to be doubly alert to learn about and report future demonstrations which are bound to come.

Colonel White:

Noted that the State Department, which is the Executive Agency for the government on establishing allowances, had seen fit to reduce allowances governing transfers from foreign posts to the U.S. and while this reduction was effective 1 May, we had not received notification until about 10 days later. As a result Col. White said it had been administratively determined here that we would advance the effective date to 1 July due to the lateness of notification and as we already had a number of people in transit. However, upon further discussion of this matter with the G.A.O. it had been found we would have to accept the 1 May date.

Mr. Amory:
